66. The justice, appointed to take the list of taxables, shall set down each article or subject in its proper column, against the names of the persons listing, arranged in alphabetical order, and return the same to the clerk of the county court, at the term next after the time prescribed for taking the list, and as a part of his return, which he shall always subscribe, he shall state that the list of each person listing was rendered on oath, in the manner My plantation, Turpentine and all, is consumed. prescribed and enjoined by law.

67. If any justice appointed to take the list of taxables, or any freeholder appointed to assess the duties of his appointment, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

68. The clerk, on receiving the returns, shall record them at length in alphabetical order, keeping the returns of each district separate from the other; and at the next county court, after they are directed to be made, shall set up in some conspicuous part of the court house, a copy of the whole, adding to the taxables of each person the amount of tax for which he is liable; and any clerk offending against any of the duties prescribed in this section, shall forfeit and pay one hundred dollars.

69. The clerk, on or before the first day of April next after the lists are returned, shall return to the comptroller an abstract of the same, showing the number of acres of land, and their value, the valuapoils, and shall specify every other subject of taxaion, and the aggregate tax on the whole. At the same time the clerk shall return to the comptroller an abstract of the lists of the county and poor taxes paid in his county, setting forth, separately, the number of taxable white and black polls, the amount paid on each hundred dollars value of land, and also the gross amount of taxes of every kind levied was burnt to the ground on Friday night. public cost, shall furnish the clerks with blank forms for the aforesaid abstracts of both kinds, and include the abstracts in his reports.
